Caglar Singletary 's NSCA ID: 001093279

There is no publicly available information in the provided sources confirming an NSCA (National Strength and Conditioning Association) ID for an individual named Caglar Singletary or validating the ID "001093279" specifically. None of the documents or databases referenced in the search results contain a list of NSCA members or their IDs[1][2][3].

If you require verification of an NSCA membership or ID, you would need to consult the official NSCA database or contact the NSCA directly, as this information is not included in the sources reviewed.

Could this NSCA ID help verify Caglar Singletary’s involvement in sports or fitness activities

An NSCA ID is an internal identifier assigned by the National Strength and Conditioning Association to individuals who are members, certified professionals, or otherwise affiliated with the organization[4]. The presence of an NSCA ID for Caglar Singletary would indicate some form of involvement or record with the NSCA, which could suggest participation in sports, fitness, or strength and conditioning activities—such as being a certified trainer, coach, or student member[4][5].

However, the ID alone does not specify the nature or extent of involvement. To verify the specific role or activities associated with Caglar Singletary’s NSCA ID, you would need to access the NSCA’s official records or contact their certification department[4]. The ID provides a way to look up or confirm an individual’s status within the NSCA system, but not the details of their involvement without further investigation.
